* In process of working towards

Leading the way in Tokenized
Reinsurance Securities.

SurancePlus is a Subsidiary of Oxbridge Re Holdings Limited (NASDAQ: OXBR)

Why SurancePlus

Gain entry to an investment class typically accessible only to ultra-high net worth individuals: Reinsurance

Examples of large reinsurers are Berkshire Hathaway, and Lloyd's of London

SurancePlus' issuance of Tokenized Reinsurance Securities is the first on-chain reinsurance Real-World Asset (RWA) of its kind to be offered by a subsidiary of a NASDAQ-listed company*

Unlike with most others, an investment with SurancePlus' Tokenized Reinsurance Securities has the benefit of being uncorrelated to the fluctuations of the capital markets

* <https://www.artemis.bm/news/oxbridge-re-starts-selling-tokenized-securities-to-back-its-reinsurance-sidecar/>

The potential of tokenizing reinsurance securities is that it democratizes access to this alternative investment class through fractionalization and offers an investment opportunity to the broader global population.

Reinsurance as an Investment

Insurance companies lay off their risk by buying reinsurance

Oxbridge Re is a licensed and regulated reinsurer

We give one access to an annual high-return alternative investment opportunity

The investment is in a high-yield reinsurance contract pool

Monies are invested only in reinsurance contracts and are held in a US Bank Trust account

Oxbridge Re, parent company of SurancePlus, has been listed on the NASDAQ since 2014

This is not Crypto: It's a Digital Security in an RWA

Easy Access: No Digital Wallet Needed to Invest

SurancePlus has partnered with an SEC-registered Transfer Agent, Securitize LLC, to provide a simple Investor Portal in our security backed token offerings.

There, investors can:

Download offering documents

Sign their subscription agreements

View wire transfer details to pay for their digital securities investments

Monitor their investments

Investors that wish to self-custody their digital securities can still use their digital wallet by registering it on the Securitize Investor Portal.

A Targeted Annualized Return: Balanced Yield (20%), High Yield (42%)

Our security backed tokens provide investors with the ability to participate in the performance of reinsurance contracts

SurancePlus will issue Zeta Cat Re and Eta Cat Re digital securities, the net proceeds of which will be co-invested alongside ceding insurers' premiums to fully collateralize underwritten reinsurance contracts

High Yield investors are entitled to a 20% preferred return, while Balanced Yield investors receive a 10% preferred return. Remaining profits will be distributed on an 80/20 basis, favoring the investor*

Potentially tax advantaged as it's an offshore investment

* Provided there are no losses incurred, and the collateral has been released from the trust accounts.
